Dear Reader

We at Integrity Risk Management would like to inform all our current and prospective clientele that Integrity Risk Management is registered in terms of the Companies act of 2008. The management team has submitted information to the Companies and Intellectual Property Commission to state that the business performs essential services as indicated in relevant regulations issued as part of the state of disaster declared under the Disaster Management Act, to deal with the Covid-19 pandemic.

Therefore, we would like to reassure our clientele and consumers that we are still providing essential services in terms of the lockdown regulations and the five levels, as amended, issued by the Minister of Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs. All our personnel are still working as essential workers.

Current clientele can still communicate as they normally would have before the lockdown, all teams within our workforce are available as normal.

Should you wish to find out more about our services and how to sign up with us please contact our sales representative directly, we will then arrange a meeting in accordance to regulations of social distancing, if you have any further questions we are happy to provide you with the right answers, you can contact our sales representative on 065 939 3907 or email him on gerhard@integrityrm.co.za

We wish the safety of our clients, consumers, workforce and fellow South Africans in this National Health care crisis

Integrity Greetings,

Management,

Integrity Risk Management (PTY) LTD
